

DOKA-NG™

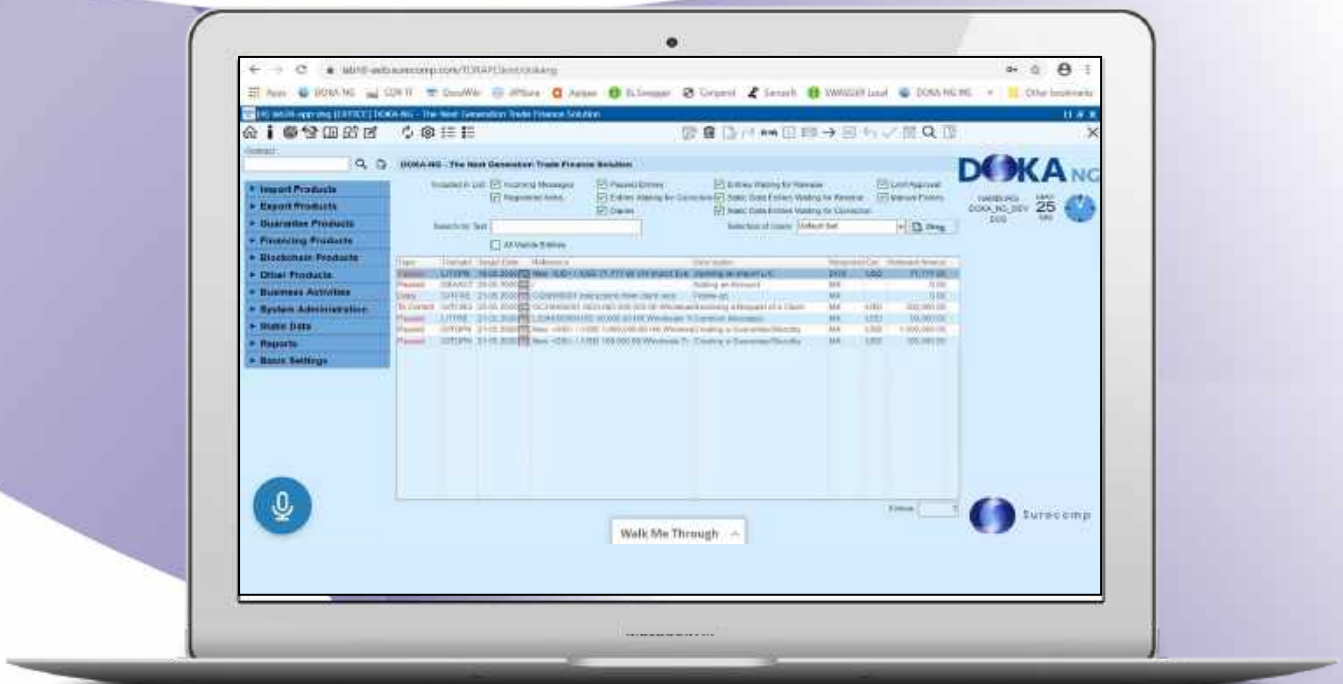

Back-office trade finance processing

We help banks realize the benefits of trade finance automation by offering a leading back-office solution, fully integrated into the ecosystem with advanced Straight Through Processing (STP) features. Supporting multiple industry channels and in compliance with ICC standards, our SWIFT certified, state-of-the-art DOKA-NG™ solution streamlines trade finance processing for reduced costs and increased profitability.

Addressing the diverse needs of any bank trade services department, our comprehensive and configurable solution handles all volumes of trade finance activity and a full array of instruments including commercial and standby letters of credit, guarantees, collections, clean payments, loans & advances, reimbursements, syndications & participations and cash letters.

DOKA-NG™ can be integrated out-of-the box with our entire solution suite via our open API architecture, including our front-office trade finance processing solution and our fintech partner Marketplace.

Adopted by prominent global banks of every size, DOKA-NG™ serves as an end-to-end processing, communication and decision-support system that vastly improves transactional throughput, operational productivity and bank profitability.
